

M1S1

I Blank filling.

1. inductive
2. ethos
3. belittle
4. evidence
5. embody

II Multiple choices

1. C
2. B
3. B
4. A
5. B

III Translation

1. Aristotle believed that rhetoric is an art that enables people to discover the available means of persuasion in a particular situation.
2. The persuasive method that appeals to logos usually relies on objective evidence and a clear reasoning process.
3. Excellent orators are good at moving the audience by balancing ethos, pathos, and logos.
4. Improving communication competence helps us apply rhetorical principles more effectively to achieve persuasive goals.
5. A speaker's credibility depends not only on their expertise but also on their personal character.

M1S2

I Blank filling.

1. advent
2. immersion
3. dynamic
4. negotiation
5. augment

II Multiple choices

1. A
2. D
3. A
4. D
5. A

III Translation

1. Nowadays, diversified AI language learning resources have reshaped the overall landscape of language education, allowing people of different ages and occupations to flexibly broaden their language horizons.

2. The real-time speech correction function of artificial intelligence can help English learners whose native language is Chinese quickly correct pronunciation problems and prevent incorrect phonetic habits from forming.
3. The business negotiation scenarios simulated by virtual reality technology provide invaluable practical practice opportunities for learners planning to enter the field of international trade, without the need to bear the cost of going abroad.
4. For many new professionals, utilising AI language learning tools to improve foreign language skills has become a fundamental way to enhance competitiveness in the globalised workplace.
5. With the advent of low-cost AI language learning platforms, more people from low-income groups have access to high-quality language education resources, which was unprecedented ten years ago.

M2S1

I Fill in the blanks using the most appropriate words from the vocabulary.

1. facilitate
2. context
3. principle
4. jargon
5. evaluate

II Circle the most suitable choice to replace the underlined word.

1. A
2. C
3. B
4. C
5. A

III Translate the following sentences into English.

1. In the field of education, structured communication helps teachers convey knowledge to students more clearly and makes it easier for students to understand and memorize what they have learned.
2. To improve the efficiency of team collaboration, members should establish a clear communication mechanism and clarify their respective responsibilities and task objectives.
3. When enterprises implement new management plans, they need to collect employees' opinions through feedback channels to evaluate the actual effect of the plans.
4. Compared with spoken communication, written communication usually pays more attention to grammatical accuracy and content logic, as it needs to be stored for a long time and used for future reference.
5. In the healthcare industry, standardized terminology and coding systems can improve the accuracy of patient information records, thereby providing better medical services for patients.

M2S2

I Fill in the blanks using the most appropriate words from the vocabulary.

1. scope

2. contestable
3. persona
4. locale
5. pervasiveness

II Circle the most suitable choice to replace the underlined word.

1. B
2. A
3. B
4. B
5. A

III Translate the following sentences into English.

1. The function of an introductory paragraph is to move the reader from the world of daily life into the textual and analytical space of an essay.
2. It would be unfortunate to see Dubliners merely as an ethnographic study.
3. Joyce's attitude toward home does much to indict the idea of it, while also showing deep compassion for those bound to it.
4. The motive of a paper is to answer the "so what?" question that a reader might ask of your thesis.
5. A look at two less obvious works may best suggest the subtlety and pervasiveness of the theme.

M2S3

I Reading Comprehension:

1. C
2. B
3. C
4. C

II Please fill in each blank with the most appropriate word or phrase

1. signposts
2. prescriptive
3. end users
4. solid
5. overarching, harness

III Circle the most suitable choice to replace the underlined word.

6. B
7. B
8. B
9. B
10. B

IV Translation.

1. A powerful academic essay needs to be crafted, not splurged onto the page; it must incorporate clear signposts to guide the reader.
2. When using the PEEL method, your perspective must be grounded in solid evidence, and you need to drive home how this evidence supports your argument.
3. An effective paragraph often starts with a clear point, then integrates evidence with explanation, and finally rounds out the argument by creating a link back to the question.
4. 尽管 PEEL 方法提供了一个有用的结构，但死板的方法并非总是最佳选择。作者应自由地调换“解释”和“证据”的顺序，或者将批判性评估融入段落中，以展示更深刻的视角。
5. 一个精心构建的段落的总体目标，是向读者阐明（或：有力地证明）其对论文问题的部分回答。这涉及到利用证据来支持你的观点，并确保内容对你文章的最终用户（通常是你的评估者）是相关的。

M2S4

I Fill in each blank with the most appropriate word or phrase. Each word or phrase can be used only once.

1. expressly
2. congestion
3. aviation
4. isolate
5. workable
6. culinary
7. chronological
8. versatile

II Circle the most suitable choice to replace the underlined word or phrase.

1. A
2. B
3. B
4. D
5. B
6. C
7. A
8. B

III Translation: Chinese to English

1. The process of organizing the body of a speech begins when you determine the main points, which form the skeleton of the speech and need to be selected carefully, phrased precisely, and arranged strategically.
2. If you find you have too many main points, you can condense them into broader categories. For instance, multiple points about yoga breathing and postures can be isolated and grouped correspondingly into two major categories.
3. Causal order is a versatile organizational pattern. You can devote your first main point to the causes and the second to the effects, or vice versa.

M2S5

I. Please fill in each blank with the most appropriate word or phrase

1. reinforce
2. summarize
3. unprecedented
4. appeal
5. abrupt

II. Circle the most suitable choice to replace the underlined word.

1. B
2. C
3. B
4. C
5. A

III. III Translate the following sentences into English.

If the conclusion of a piece of writing can echo the core viewpoint from the introduction, it will not only make the article's structure more complete but also help readers leave a deeper impression of the full text's main idea.

The conclusion of an argumentative essay can extend the thesis from theory to practice by putting forward specific suggestions or looking into the future, making the article's practical significance more prominent.

In the conclusion of the expository article, the author summarized the key data of the full text in one sentence, which not only avoided information redundancy but also quickly helped readers sort out the core content.

To make the conclusion of writing more touching, it is recommended to appropriately use lyrical language, which can better arouse readers' emotional resonance, especially in essays or narrative writings.

The conclusion of academic writing needs to objectively point out the research limitations and propose future research directions, which can reflect the rigor of the research and provide references for subsequent exploration.

M3S1

I Fill in the blanks using the most appropriate words from the vocabulary.

1. mechanism
2. warrant
3. institute
4. deforestation
5. ethical

II Circle the most suitable choice to replace the underlined word.

1. C

2. A
3. B
4. B
5. B

III Translate the following sentences into English.

1. The city's new transportation plan is formulated based on deep insights into citizens' travel needs.
2. To solve environmental problems, the international community needs to take multiple levels of cooperative actions to curb deforestation.
3. This environmental advocate has devoted his life to promoting sustainable lifestyles and green values.
4. A logical argument must be supported by sufficient facts and a clear reasoning process to back up its claim.
5. From the perspective of adolescents, social media is not only an entertainment tool but also an important social platform.

M3S2

I Blank filling.

1. pertinent
2. misconception
3. prevalence
4. contextual
5. infer

II Multiple choices

1. B
2. B
3. C
4. A
5. C

III Translation

1. In argumentative writing, only by citing authoritative data and literature can you fully substantiate the core argument you put forward.
2. When interpreting dialogues in literary works, we should understand their implied meanings by combining contextual information such as character relationships and story scenarios.
3. By extrapolating the statistical data on mental health issues over the past two decades, researchers have provided key proof support for related problems.
4. When using hypothetical evidence, we should use specific cases and descriptions to materialize the hypothetical situation into perceivable content.
5. Compelling anecdotes derived from the personal experiences of ordinary people are more likely to arouse readers' emotional resonance than cold figures.

M3S3

I Fill in the blanks using the most appropriate words from the vocabulary.

1. implicit
2. reputable
3. facilitate
4. concise
5. context

II Circle the most suitable choice to replace the underlined word.

1. A
2. B
3. B
4. A
5. C

III Translate the following sentences into Chinese/ English.

1. High-quality courses embed critical thinking training throughout the teaching process.
2. A persuasive argument must be based on substantive evidence to avoid empty expressions.
3. The legitimacy of this new policy must be established through public discussion.
4. A clear argument structure helps retain more audience members during a speech.
5. Appropriate examples can amplify the persuasiveness of an argument and resonate with the audience.

M3S4

I Fill in the blanks

1. coherence
2. transitional expressions
3. coherence at different levels
4. parallel structure
5. redundancy
6. ambiguity
7. disjointed
8. harness
9. reader's needs
10. sparingly

II Multiple Choice

11. B
12. A
13. B
14. B
15. A

III Translation: Chinese to English

1. Coherent writing moves smoothly between ideas, using transitional expressions and connectors to guide the reader.
2. You can harness parallel structures to emphasize links between ideas, but repetition should be used sparingly.
3. When revising, consciously examine whether the ideas flow clearly through your sentences, paragraphs, and sections.
4. A good paragraph should revolve around a central idea and maintain unity.